CHAPTER 11

INDIA'S EXTERNAL RELATIONS

CHAPTER ESSENCE AT A GLANCE:
Examine the constitutional directives and architectural principles of Nehru's foreign policy, the evolution of the Non-Aligned Movement (NAM), the Panchsheel Agreement, the traumatic 1962 Sino-Indian War, military conflicts with Pakistan in 1965 and 1971 culminating in the liberation of Bangladesh and the Shimla Accord, and the evolutionary path of India's nuclear doctrine.

4 CORE PRINCIPLES TO UNDERSTAND FIRST

• Nehru's Foreign Policy Architecture: Rooted in Article 51 of the Directive Principles, Nehru pursued three cardinal objectives: preserving hard-won sovereignty, safeguarding territorial integrity, and promoting rapid domestic economic development through non-alignment.

• Panchsheel and Afro-Asian Solidarity: Signed on 29 April 1954 between Nehru and Chinese Premier Zhou Enlai, the Five Principles of Peaceful Coexistence articulated mutual respect for territorial sovereignty, non-aggression, non-interference, equality, and peaceful coexistence.

• The 1962 Sino-Indian Border Trauma: Triggered by unresolved territorial disputes over Aksai Chin and the McMahon Line in NEFA (Arunachal Pradesh) and Chinese anger over asylum granted to the Dalai Lama in 1959, the October 1962 conflict shook India's strategic complacency and led to a political split in the CPI in 1964.

• Indo-Pak Wars and Nuclear Doctrine: Encompassed the 1965 war resolved via the Tashkent Agreement, the 1971 liberation of Bangladesh settled by the Shimla Agreement, and the formulation of a nuclear doctrine based on Credible Minimum Deterrence and No First Use.

CRUCIAL EXAM PRECAUTIONS & VALUATION RUBRIC SECRETS

• Alert: Never confuse Non-Alignment with neutrality or isolationism; Non-Alignment was an active, interventionist policy designed to mediate peace and maintain foreign policy autonomy.

• Alert: Remember that India refused to sign the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT, 1968) and CTBT (1996) because it viewed them as discriminatory instruments that legitimized the nuclear monopolies of the P5 nations.

• Alert: Do not confuse the dates: the first nuclear test (Pokhran-I, 'Peaceful Nuclear Explosion') took place in May 1974 under Indira Gandhi, while Pokhran-II occurred in May 1998 under Atal Bihari Vajpayee.

4. Analyze the major political, diplomatic, and military fallout of the 1962 Sino-Indian War on India. [Score: 3 Marks]

Answer & Key Valuation Steps:

• Military Realignment and Modernization: India abandoned naive pacifism, drastically increased defense spending, and modernized its armed forces and mountain strike divisions. [1 Mark]

• Domestic Political Repercussions: Humiliation in the conflict forced the resignation of Defense Minister V.K. Krishna Menon, and Prime Minister Nehru faced a no-confidence motion in Parliament for the first time. [1 Mark]

• Split in the Communist Party: Ideological friction over support for India versus China led directly to the historic split of the Communist Party of India in 1964, forming the CPI(M). [1 Mark]

5. Examine the significance of the Tashkent Agreement of 1966 and the Shimla Agreement of 1972. [Score: 3 Marks]

Answer & Key Valuation Steps:

• Tashkent Agreement (1966): Signed in January 1966 between Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Ayub Khan mediated by the Soviet Union, restoring status quo boundaries after the 1965 war. [1.5 Marks]

• Shimla Agreement (1972): Signed in July 1972 between Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Zulfikar Ali Bhutto following the 1971 war, resolving that all bilateral disputes, including Jammu and Kashmir, must be settled through direct bilateral negotiations. [1.5 Marks]

6. Trace the evolution of India's nuclear policy from 1974 to the adoption of the 'No First Use' doctrine. [Score: 4 Marks]

Answer & Key Valuation Steps:

• Pokhran-I (May 1974): Conducted its first nuclear explosion under Indira Gandhi, termed a 'Peaceful Nuclear Explosion' (PNE) to advance civilian scientific and energy research. [1 Mark]

• Opposition to Discriminatory Treaties: Steadfastly refused to sign the NPT (1968) and CTBT (1996), condemning them as nuclear apartheid that legitimized nuclear arsenals for five powers while denying self-defense to others. [1 Mark]

• Pokhran-II (May 1998): Conducted a series of five underground nuclear tests under Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee, formally declaring India a nuclear-weapon state. [1 Mark]

• No First Use (NFU) Doctrine: Codified a doctrine of 'Credible Minimum Deterrence', pledging never to be the first to launch a nuclear strike, and guaranteeing massive retaliation only in response to a first strike. [1 Mark]

7. Why did India sign the 20-Year Treaty of Peace, Friendship and Cooperation with the Soviet Union in August 1971? [Score: 3 Marks]

Answer & Key Valuation Steps:

• Impending War over East Pakistan: The brutal military crackdown in East Pakistan drove ten million refugees into India, making open war with Pakistan virtually inevitable. [1 Mark]

• US-China-Pakistan Axis: Diplomatic rapprochement between the United States and China orchestrated by Pakistan created a threatening strategic axis against India. [1 Mark]

• Deterrence and Diplomatic Shield: The treaty assured India of Soviet diplomatic backing and military assistance, successfully deterring US and Chinese intervention during the December 1971 war. [1 Mark]
